

CA-NI Hosts Arts Council of Northern Ireland and WPFG 2013 Officials

20 May 2013

Belfast, NORTHERN IRELAND: Julianne McCormick, Community Arts Development Officer – Arts Council of Northern Ireland; John Tully, Chief Executive – World Police and Fire Games (WPFG) 2013; Johnny Davis, Head of Sports – WPFG 2013; Pete Loughins, Head of Logistics and Transport – WPFG 2013 and Seamus Murray, Director Business Services – WPFG 2013 briefed the Consular Association of Northern Ireland (CA-NI) members.

The event was organised by Dr Christopher Stange, Secretariat of the Consular Corps and took place at the Ramada Inn - Shaw's Bridge.

Centre: Lord Diljit Rana – CA-NI President, Members of the Consular Corps with officials from the Arts Council of Northern Ireland and WPFG 2013

The presentation from the Arts Council of Northern Ireland included the Intercultural Strategy, grants, support programmes, and how we may best assist in promoting and engaging our respective Diaspora/communities to these initiatives. www.artscouncil-ni.org

The presentation by the World Police and Fire Games 2013 was an update on the progress, implementation, numbers from relative countries, addressing any issues around safety and security, and how we may best facilitate in promoting the Games or encouraging further participation of those nations not yet registered. www.2013wpfg.com

ENDS